Description

Carnivora Prairie-fed beef offal is a nutrient dense source of protein, vitamins, minerals, and fatty acids that can be used to augment a normal, healthy dog or cat's diet several times per week for additional variety. It's valuable food for performance dogs, growing pups and kittens, pregnant and lactating females, or during convalescence. It also helps alleviate constipation. Beef Offal can be fed as a separate meal or mixed with vegetables 'n' fruit or green tripe to make a highly palatable, nutritious meal.

Our offal patties are made of finely ground beef heart, liver, kidneys, tongue, spleen, and lungs.
